

disruption

13th Annual CEFPI
Australasia Region Conference
29-31 May 2013
SKYCITY Hotel,
Auckland
New Zealand

cefpi
where great schools begin
Australasia Region

Join us in Auckland for an outstanding conference experience.

The conference theme is DISRUPTION. Disruption may occur through natural disaster or by planned design – disruption is both tragic and shattering, and an opportunity to take a new page, wipe away the established, traditional and entrenched patterning of behaviour and reshape priorities without baggage.

The Conference offers:

- Enlightening keynote speakers.
- Visits to Auckland's most innovative and challenging learning spaces led by their practitioners.
- Case study workshops engaging with real life design challenges led by their educators and architects.
- Hospitality at Auckland's leading venues.

CEFPI 2013 AUCKLAND CONFERENCE

We are delighted to announce our confirmed keynote speakers:

The focus of Julia Atkin's work has been researching how people learn. The principles of effective learning which she has developed define the architecture of learning and have been translated into a set of design tools for developing educational programs. She has extensive experience of developing innovative and purposeful learning environments.

Stephen Harris is the Principal of Northern Beaches Christian School, New South Wales, and Director of Sydney Centre for Innovation in Sydney. Stephen will look at the key role of design and furniture in enabling teachers to change pedagogy which is seen as being pivotal to school transformation.

Trung Le is a pioneer of Cannon Design's education practice and has an incessant passion for learning. Le is widely recognized as an advocate for incorporating multiple intelligences and learning styles in the design of education environments. As the lead designer for Cannon Design's education group, he creates spaces that encourage inquiry and imagination and offer students a sense of what it means to be a part of a global community.

Christian Long is an educator, school planner, and passionate advocate for innovative learning communities. Christian speaks nationally and internationally on topics ranging from emerging trends in education to innovative school planning practices and is well known for his work on The Third Teacher.

Mark Treadwell is an independent New Zealand consultant who will address how we should design spaces for learning given the current paradigm shift in education.

Mike Anderson and John Leonard

Mike Anderson is Principal at Waimairi Primary School and an avid promoter of the use of ICT in primary school teaching. Mikes' school of over 500 students was hit hard in the February earthquake. His work on keeping his community together and basing it on strong learning has been recognised throughout Christchurch.

John is on leave from his usual role as Principal of Freeville school, he is currently working for Ngai Tahu with their education team leading them in creating a professional development model to enhance Maori student achievement. John's school was devastated by the quake, with the majority of his school zone now red, yet he has maintained his roll and is still the school of choice in the area.

VISITS to see learning space design in action. 20 + visits to choose from

- Stonefields School – opened 2010 and committed to maximising opportunities presented by open learning spaces.
- Ormiston Senior College – opened 2011 and designed to support personalised learning and 21st century technologies.

And many more...

Case Study Workshops 20 + to choose from

- Albany Senior High School.
- How to create learning spaces that support self direction and environmental engagement on a narrow, road bound site.

And many more...

Christchurch Pre-Conference Tour

On Tuesday 28 May, the day before the conference officially begins, there will be an organised tour of Christchurch. If you are interested in joining this tour please email info@bccm.com.au to express your interest in attending. Details will follow later.

